Tabbed Browsing

Updated: May 5, 2014

In the past, having multiple webpages open meant having your desktop cluttered with browser windows. Modern browsers give you the option to quickly switch between pages with tabs instead of separate windows. If you hold Ctrl when clicking a link, a new tab will open the page while the original page remains open.

Tabs in Chrome

Tabs in Firefox

Tabs in Internet Explorer 11